This trip is suitable for experienced riders and pillion comfortable with covering up to 300 (largely non-motorway) miles a day.

Day 1 Let the tour begin... off to France

0 miles

We'll meet at Portsmouth Harbour to get the overnight ferry to St. Malo. While we wait to board we can introduce ourselves and start to get to know each other. Once the bikes are safely parked and strapped down and we've found our cabins, we'll meet up and have a chat about how our guided tours work, our rider policy (included in your info pack when you book) and answer any questions you may have over a drink while we wave goodbye to the UK.

Get yourself some supper and a good nights' rest ready for an early start in France. And of course we will have adequate time to relax and talk about motorcycling!

Day 2 Good morning France... welcome to rural roads

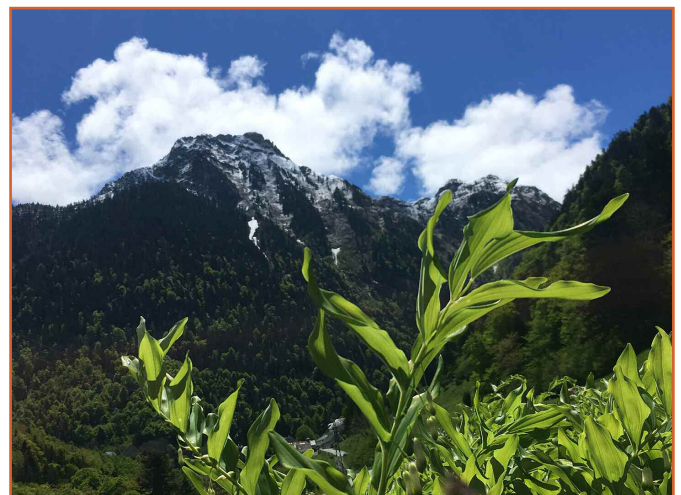

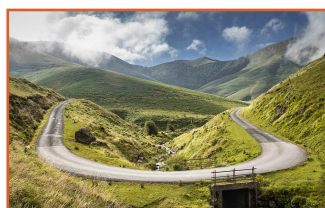

280 miles

After breakfast on the ferry, we'll disembark and head into France – the fun begins!

Our route takes us through rural areas of France with endless green fields, deep forests, stately chateaux and small villages. Passing through the Loire valley, we'll cross the Loire via the imposing bridge at Langeais. We'll ride through La Brenne Nature Park that's dotted with lakes, we arrive at Argenton-sur-Creuse where many of the houses with galleries and balustrades overhanging the riverbank are 15th-century.

Tonight we'll be staying in an 18th-century manor overlooking the river valley. The hotel has an outside pool, garden and terrace. The beautiful rooms are in classic French design with antique furniture.

Join our exclusive group BBQ in the garden.

Day 3 Rural France... magnificent D-roads

249 miles

After enjoying breakfast at our lovely manor, we'll head through the Limousin area, one of the most rural and least populated areas of France. The rolling hills and verdant river valleys are as enjoyable as the wonderful roads. Heading through the Dordogne takes us further south, passing houses built of honey-coloured stone, and green, rich meadows.

Our stop for tonight is at a chateau near Gabarret, deep in the French countryside. This beautiful building is in the heart of Gascony, home of Armagnac and The Three Musketeers. Enjoy the excellent restaurant and peaceful surroundings.

Day 4 The Pyrenees... stunning roads and scenery

234 miles

The roads start to become more twisty, climbing steadily through the captivating countryside of the Pyrenees Atlantique, Pays Basque country and into Spain. Fantastic riding along near-empty roads through the high mountains and deep valleys of the magnificent Pyrenees is certainly an experience. The roads and scale of the views confirm we've arrived in Spain – truly one of the best countries for motorcycling.

We'll be staying in Jaca, 'The Pearl of The Pyrenees' for two nights. Set in the high Aragonese mountains, this attractive old town, once the capital of Aragon, is well known for its food and lively atmosphere.

While we're in Spain we'll be setting off and finishing a bit later as most Spanish restaurants open around 8.30pm.

Day 5 Relax... enjoy the Pyrenees 0 miles

A day off to explore Jaca with its imposing 11th century cathedral with Romanesque and Gothic frescoes and the 16th century pentagonal military citadel, one of only two in Europe.

A few miles further into the mountains there is the magnificent Canfranc International railway station. At 3,921 feet and unused for over 50 years, although delapidated, it's now a tourist attraction.

We'll meet up for a group dinner this evening.

Day 6 Breathtaking... mile upon mile of bends 200 miles

Today the ride is glorious, mile upon mile of bends in the Pyrenees. Following rivers through valleys surrounded by towering peaks and climbing up past cascading waterfalls will take your breath away. These mountains are truly beautiful – an absolute 'playground' for bikers. Parts of the day will include the classic and iconic N260 – well known to many motorcyclists.

Puigcerda in La Cerdanya region which spans France and Spain is our home for tonight. This lively town has dramatic views down to the valley floor and up to the mountain peaks. The large lake surrounded by black poplars is artificial and was built in the 13th century.

Day 7 More mountains and twisties... Spain to France 221 miles

Leaving Spain we'll wind our way out of the Pyrenees through forested valleys and gorges with lots of twists and turns. Our route takes us through unspoilt countryside in one of the wildest areas of France, riding beside a river with pretty villages and castles. Travelling over limestone plateaux we'll drop down towards Millau with views of the spectacular Millau Viaduct.

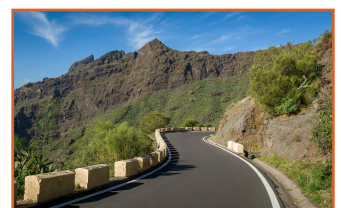

Our route finishes with a ride over the spectacular Millau Viaduct. We'll stay in a 12th century chateau with panoramic views of the viaduct and the Tarn valley. The chateau has an outside heated pool and an elegant garden. The hotel has a tasting menu and there are restaurants nearby. There is also the option of going into the centre of Millau with its old picturesque streets.

Day 8 Exciting country roads... rolling hills and thick forests 207 miles

Following a ride under the Millau Viaduct and a photo opportunity stop, we'll set off for an amazing days' ride along seemingly endless exciting rural twisty D-roads with spectacular scenery surrounding us.

Seriously awesome roads take us across the rugged countryside of the Parc National des Cévennes. Riding through the Ardeche region, our impressive route takes us through ancient villages, rolling hills and forests. We'll travel onwards into the beautiful Parc de Pilat with yet more twists and turns.

A well-earned stop in the Rhône-Alpes region with its dramatic canyons and mountains is our home for tonight.

Day 9 Deep in France... 265 miles sweeping bends and vineyards

Another day of marvellous D-roads and fantastic scenery as we head north sweeping past lakes and reservoirs. Riding the bends and turns of the empty roads in the Rhône region, our route leads us through rural France. We enter Beaujolais country with orchards, lavender fields, green woods, escarpments and, of course, vineyards.

The big unspoiled forests, chateaux, medieval abbeys and fortified villages of Burgundy are very beautiful and provide the scenery and wonderful roads for the final miles of our day.

Tonight we'll be surrounded by vineyards in the peaceful countryside of Burgundy.

Day 10 Ride over the hills... 279 miles
Champagne region

Today we'll ride across hilly landscapes and through the Champagne region with its ponds, forests and hedged farmland. Our route seeks out the best bends and scenery as the terrain begins to flatten out as we wind down for our final night in France.

Our hotel tonight is in St. Omer, a lovely town surrounded by marshes and wetlands. The busy square is the perfect place to watch the world go by. We have stayed in this town many times over the years and can promise a lively last evening. Despite its proximity to the channel ports the town has a very French feel, as most UK visitors seem to pass it by.

We'll relive our antics over a final group meal.

Day 11 Our ferry awaits... 30 miles back to England

Our last day in France. Following a slightly later breakfast, we'll ride the last 30 miles to Calais to cross the English Channel, say our goodbyes and part company with happy memories... until the next time!
